

This comment is to support K-Love radio in San Antonio, TX. The station serves me and the community by allowing an alternative to mainstream radio in which the music and comments made by D.J.'s are not in concordance with Christian households. If we were to lose K-Love in our area we would lose a great asset to the community. Not only are the D.J.'s positive, the service announcements provide a positive spin on life's difficulties, maintaining a stable Christian relationships and offer clean, Christian based music that is calming and uplifting to all who listen. I believe K-Love acts in the public interest by offering advertisements for free, local happenings in area churches and upcoming Christian events. Also, it gives Christians the ability to reach out to others through music, supports Christian artists so that their music may be heard in the home, and provides what is normally over looked in secular society: The people who desire to hear the word of God daily and be uplifted rather than pulled down by "shock jocks" and distasteful messages in popular music.
